

Dr. Richard T. Nolan Honored By N.Y.U.

Dr. Richard T. Nolan, a member and former assistant of Trinity Episcopal Church and resident of Hillside Avenue, has been named a University Honors Scholar by New York University. He is assistant professor of philosophy and history at Mattatuck Community College in Waterbury.

Presented in connection with the university's Founders Day Honors Convocation to be held in April, a celebration of the 142nd anniversary of the school's founding, the honor comes within a month after

Nolan received a Ph.D. degree from N.Y.U.

BRISTOL, CONN. PRESS, Thursday, March 29, 1973

9

Dr. Richard T. Nolan of Bristol, an assistant professor of philosophy and history at Mattatuck Community College, has been named a University Honors Scholar by New York University. Presented in connection with NYU's Founders Day program to be held in April, the honor comes a month after Dr. Nolan received his PhD from the university.