The Rev. Richard Nolan
Hartford Seminary Foundation

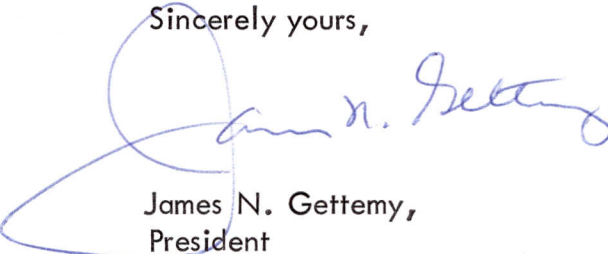

Dear Dick:

This is just to put in writing my delight in your willingness to continue as Assistant Academic Dean and Lecturer in Philosophy and Education for the 1969-1970 school year about which I had spoken to you hurriedly last week. I shall be writing you as to the matter of compensation later this Spring and will bear in mind the substance of our conversation which you have set down in your letter.

The suggested dates for your vacation are quite acceptable as is the proposal to be absent at the end of the calendar year for a holiday with your parents. Needless to say beyond that you are your own agent in determining the schedule necessary to fulfill your responsibilities.

I have been most grateful for your quiet, capable service as Assistant Academic Dean in this year. I only regret that our personal contact has been limited for I do enjoy working with you. In this regard, I have not forgotten your willingness to assist in the course on "Communicating the Faith to the World" in the Spring Term. I shall not likely be getting to that until the first of next month, but when I do, I do want to talk with you about your participation.

Sincerely yours,

James N. Gettemy,
President
